Site 3 coLaboratory is a member run arts and technology workspace in Toronto. Providing a space for a creative community encompassing disciplines as varied as science and engineering to fine arts and crafts, its members are involved with projects ranging from film production to large scale interactive art installations that bring together these areas of interest to explore the new media landscape of contemporary society.

Site 3 also engages with the wider public by teaching courses on everything from electronics and laser cutting to leather work and mold making and participating in events such as Maker Faire and SoOnCon.

Notable projects include Flux &Fire, an interactive fire arts installation that won the People's Choice award at Nuit Blanche in 2010, Super Street Fire, a simulated fighting game allowing the participants to interact through motions and thoughts in real space, as well as The Heart Machine and Shannon's Fireflies, two more projects merging art and electronics in an interactive space that will be featured in this year's Nuit Blanche.

For the occasion of our one year anniversary we have decided to open our doors and celebrate with a silent auction and anniversary party. The auction will showcase both projects from members of Site 3 itself as well as artists and artisans from the wider creative community as we come together for a fantastic event. It will also be the perfect opportunity for those unfamiliar to the space to see the facilities and meet with our members. We hope you will join us and come see what Site 3 and the people who are part of it are all about.
